Why go there?

Giluwe volcano (Mt. Giluwe) - 4368 meters above sea level, the highest volcano in Australia and Oceania. It is the second largest mountain after Mount Wilhelma (4509 m.) In Papua New Guinea. Located in the province of Satern Highlands. It is a shield volcano covered with vast alpine meadows. The solidified lava forms two peaks, of which the central peak - 4368 m, the eastern peak about 2 km and reaches an altitude of 4300 m. Giluwe is the highest volcano in Australia and Oceania. The track goes through various forest arels. You will be able to see wildlife of all kinds-bird of paradise, possums, kangaroos.

Tips for guides and service personnel (important information!)

You trust the guides with your life and health, and most importantly, your time and money. And they take upon themselves all these worries and responsibility for you and for the success of the event 24 hours a day for the entire trip. Guides and service personnel on the trip expect from you a tip of 10-20 dollars per client for each day of work. If you liked everything, you remained safe and sound, you can pay them more! All tips can be given to the Chief Guide and he himself will distribute them among all employees. Don't forget to thank the guides and staff before leaving. And you will see their happy and grateful eyes!
